Read before the Wellington Philosophical Society (Microscopical Section), 15th February, 1886. For some years past, whenever a Vorticella has come under my notice, I have made a sketch and taken careful notes. The receipt of a copy of Mr. W. Saville Kents magnificent Manual of Infusoria has enabled me to identify most of the species observed. It should be remembered, however, that the present paper is only the result of a number of disconnected observations, and it must be distinctly understood that I do not for a moment claim to give an exhaustive list of the New Zealand Vorticelle; on the contrary, I believe that there are probably double or treble the number of species here enumerated, and it is hoped that some microscopist, with sufficient time at his disposal to do the subject justice, may be induced to take up the search for...
